Code of Conduct

Rights and Responsibilities

Roslyn Public Schools

The Board of Education recognizes that learning environments that are safe and supportive can increase student attendance and improve academic achievement. A student's ability to learn and achieve high academic standards, and a school's ability to educate students, is compromised by incidents of discrimination or harassment, including but not limited to bullying, taunting and intimidation. Therefore, in accordance with the Dignity for All Students Act, Education Law, Article 2, the District will strive to create an environment free of discrimination and harassment and will foster civility in the schools to prevent and prohibit conduct, which is inconsistent with the District's educational mission.

The District condemns and prohibits all forms of discrimination and harassment of students based on actual or perceived race, color, weight, national origin, ethnic group, religion, religious practice, disability, sexual orientation, gender, or sex by school employees or students on school property and at school-sponsored activities and events, including those that take place at locations off school property. In addition, any act of discrimination or harassment, outside of school-sponsored events, which can reasonably be expected to materially and substantially disrupt the education process may be subject to discipline.

Introduction

The Board of Education has created a list of rules that will help keep everyone in the school safe and comfortable so that they can get the best education possible every day that they are in school. These are rules for students, teachers, employees, parents, visitors, or anyone at school. The board expects everyone at all times to show good character. Everyone must be honest, tolerant, helpful, caring, kind, and respectful of everyone, even if they are different from you. You must follow these rules before school, during school, after school, and at all school functions.

The school district will make sure that you are safe and healthy in your school, and that everyone will be able to participate in all school activities. No one can be left out based on their race, color, nationality, religion, gender, sexual orientation, or weight. The school district will allow you to tell what happened if you are accused of breaking one of the rules. If you need a reminder about the school rules, an adult at school will explain them to you again.

As a student in the Roslyn Middle School, you are entitled to an excellent education. Each student has the right to learn, to grow, to mature, and to be treated with respect within an environment conducive to health and safety. The administrators, teachers, parents, and students will work as a team to see that such an environment does exist in the Middle School. Students will be treated as individuals responsible for their own actions. The following Code of Conduct has been established to make you aware of your rights and responsibilities as a student of the Roslyn Middle School.
