

ROSLYN HIGH SCHOOL

LIFE SKILLS PROGRAM

READING

Reading instruction facilitates the acquisition of essential skills within real life situations and activities that naturally occur across many settings. Through a variety of instructional activities, students learn to read and comprehend concepts encountered in adult daily living. Functional reading is the ability for students to apply ideas, which are useful, relevant and meaningful to everyday life experiences.

GOALS

- Acquire and use functional reading sight vocabulary
- Understand information from books, magazines, newspapers, textbooks, audio and media presentations, basic charts, maps and diagrams
- Participate in reading response activities
- Organize, sequence, and categorize information/materials
- Form opinions relevant to written material
- Apply written material to real life situations
